An exchange says there are two reasons why some people don't mind their own business. One is that they haven't any mind, and the other is that they haven't any business.

If the man who toils fourteen hours a day, wears overalls and a checkered shirt, and his wife wears a poor quality of calico, how does it happen that the fellow who never works at all wears broadcloth and his wife wears seal skin?

A young lady of this city went into a dry goods store the other day and blushingly asked the head clerk if he "had any of those elastic bands capable of being elongated and adjusted at pleasure, and used by the feminine portion of mankind for putting around the lower extremities of their locomotive members to keep in the proper position and the required altitude halldiments of their bodies?" The clerk is now an asleep ranch.

Criticism is a medicine that sometimes kills, but often cures. Iterated Lord Byron of some of his early follies and fondly conceit, and it is said to have killed John Keats, an oversensitive young poet. But taken as a whole, criticism is a good thing if wisely directed and properly administered. It corrects errors, elevates taste, and conducts the world in the right paths to the attainment of the most substantial good to the greatest number.

In the Priesthood, Quorums Table to the Era for June, the questions, "Who Holds the Keys to the Priesthood?" and the "Beginning of the Arnold Priesthood" are discussed. In Mutual Work there is an account of the championship basket ball contest at El Paso, Texas, in which the M. L. A. of Juarez took part. In the "Messages from the Missions" there are photographs of Elders Alma G. Taylor and Fred A. Cain who recently returned from nine and eight year missions to Japan. There are twenty illustrations, two stories, and altogether twenty-one contributors to this number.

Microbes in everything you eat and drink, and if you eat and drink microbes you will surely die, and if you don't eat and drink you will still more surely die. Bound to surely die in any event, you had better pay no more attention to microbes than your granddaddies did. They ate and drank everything they wanted and they lived long and prospered. What did Methuselah know about microbes in his time? Eat and drink everything you want microbes and all, and you will live until you die and that is what old Methuselah did—he lived until he died.

Prof. C. P. Chase, of the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station says in his recent bulletin on apple culture, "Pruning may be done at any time of the year, but some seasons are better than others for this purpose. The bulk of pruning is done in the winter and spring months, as there is more leisure time. Pruning wounds heal quickest made in May and June. Careful summer pruning is of immense importance, because the new growth may be so easily girdled and controlled. Young trees ought to be examined every three or four weeks in the growing season when much of the pruning can be done by pinching out new growth by the thumb and finger."

After all there is a good deal in salt. Let a man talk dull times and it is infectious, everybody talks dull times. Instead of rustling around to take care of what business there is, they all go sit down and smoke over dull times. If a customer does buy you to stop selling one of those "dull times" stories he actually gets frightened out of buying as much as respects to buy, because things look dubious. He catches the spirit of the time and resolves to hang on to his money with a death grip, even if his business goes to pieces on account of running short of goods to fill up the empty shelves. The huge hoard of hard times should be sat down upon. It is doing more to kill business than anything else. Tell a man he is sick, keep it up and you will eventually found him to death.

When Women Ruled.

It seems to be pretty well established that originally the matters of relationship and descent, along with all that followed, were determined through the female line. Kinship, and therefore property, was governed by the mother. Hence the power of the early woman. When a young woman got married she took her husband's name with her, and if he proved unworthy it was within her power to cast him out. The woman was the "boss," and when she said "Go" he had to get out. It is comparatively late in the history of human society that we first see the change from female to male leadership in the matter of kinship and inheritance, and in the consequent transfer of the power and importance from the woman to the man.

How We Lost It.

How did that man lose his supremacy at home?

His wife probably tried to phone him at the office one day, and the office couldn't understand the name.

NOTICE TO WATER USERS

State Engineer's Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, May 20, 1905.

Notice is hereby given that the Coalville Water Works and Power Company, by its president, T. J. Lewis, whose post office address is Coalville, Utah, has made application in accordance with the requirements of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1904, as amended by the Session Laws of Utah, 1905, as amended by the Session Laws of Utah, 1906, to appropriate for irrigation purposes water from the Little Colorado River, in the south-west corner of the south-east quarter of Section 7, Township 2, Range 2 east, Salt Lake base and meridian, from where it will be conveyed by means of a ditch and canal and pipe line, the same of sufficient size to supply all the needs of the town of Coalville, and thereafter during the period from January 1 to December 31, inclusive, of each year, for domestic and municipal purposes. NOTICE TO WATER USERS

State Engineer's Office, Salt Lake City, Utah, May 20, 1905.

Notice is hereby given that James Vernon and George Vernon, whose post office address is Rockport, Utah, have made application in accordance with the requirements of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1904, as amended by the Session Laws of Utah, 1905, to appropriate one-tenth of a acre foot per second of water from a spring in Summit County, Utah. Said spring is situated at a point which bears south 22 degrees 2 minutes west 230 feet from the northwest corner of Section 1, Township 1, Range 2 east, Salt Lake base and meridian. The water will be diverted at the place where it issues from the ground and conducted by means of a pipe line for a distance of 170 feet and then used during the period from January 1 to December 31, inclusive, of each year, for domestic and municipal purposes. This application is designated in the State Engineer's office as No. 310.

All protests against the granting of said application, stating the reasons therefore, must be made by affidavit in duplicate and filed in this office within thirty days after the completion of publication of this notice.

CALES TANNER,
